

ORANGE FENCE & SUPPLY CO., INC.

Orange Rustic Works, Circa 1947

Orange Rustic Works was started in 1930 by Anthony Cuzzocreo. The products sold were all hand made out of Connecticut grown cedar. After the war, aluminum furniture became popular, so the family began to focus on fence products instead of furniture. Orange Fence & Supply Co., Inc. became incorporated in 1964.

As quoted from the New Haven Gazette - March 11, 1949

"This remarkable enterprise is the only firm in the state of Connecticut which is engaged in the work of producing hand made rustic pieces for home interiors, porches, lawns and grounds. Estimates for costs of such work are cheerfully given and a patron has only to telephone 7-9437 for the information. The business is managed by a family which has experience in the work for a long time. It is composed of Anthony and Lucy Cuzzocreo and their two sons, John and Joseph. If it is a rustic atmosphere that's desired, these fine craftsmen can handle the job with utmost satisfaction to the most discriminate customer. No job is too large or too small."

As quoted from Fence Industry Magazine - January 8, 1973.

"Before you leave a job," Joseph Cuzzocreo urges his men, "stand in our customers shoes for a minute. Ask yourself if you as the customer could accept the job just as you have completed it". As such, the valued customer returns. "No discount house is going to do that kind of a job".

The occasion is the sesquicentennial celebration for the town of Orange, Conn. The gal in costume is Mrs. Emma Cuzzocreo, Orange Fence and Supply, who says she practically lived in the costume during the week long gala. Here she chats with a friendly neighbor.
